

TOURISM & HOSPITALITY

BladeRunners

Are you interested in skills certifications and gaining work experience?

BladeRunners is an employment readiness program designed to give unemployed First Nations youth a chance to gain valuable work experience and skills training that will help them make the transition to long-term employment. Candidates must have a strong desire to enter the workforce.

TARGETED COAST SALISH PARTICIPANTS

All participants will have a First Nations background, be 15—30 years old, out of school, unemployed, not attached to Employment Insurance (E.I.), and haven't been in Bladerunners before. A training allowance is provided. If you haven't been able to make a successful transition into the workforce—then this program is for you!
